

Start planning for a comfortable retirement

As part of your employee benefits package, your employer offers you the ability to participate in the City of Redmond Section 457 Deferred Compensation. By participating in the plan, you can either start or continue saving for retirement. Enroll today and help put yourself in control of your financial future.

It's easy. Your contributions are automatically deducted from your paycheck on a pre-tax basis—no checks to write or deposits to worry about.

It's smart. Contributions are deducted from your salary and are not subject to federal, state and local income tax withholding (certain exceptions may apply). This means your tax savings are immediate and you don't have to pay income taxes on money in your plan account until you take money out of your employer's retirement plan.

It's flexible. Contributions are invested in the funding options available in your plan. No matter what type of investor you are or where you are in your career, you can choose from a variety of funding options to suit your needs. Once you've chosen them, remember to monitor your investments in your plan account periodically to make sure that they continue to suit your needs. You can manage your plan account online or via telephone.

Features of Your Plan

When am I eligible to participate in the plan?

You are eligible to participate in your plan effective immediately.

How much can I contribute?

The Internal Revenue Code limits the amount you can contribute each calendar year. The federal general limit is $23,000 for 2024.

If you are age 50 or over, the general limit contribution amount may be increased by an additional "catch-up" contribution of $7,500. After 2024, the general limit and the catch-up contribution may increase each year in accordance with a cost-of-living adjustment. Beginning in 2025, for participants ages 60-63 the catch-up contribution limit is increased to the greater of $10,000 or 150% of the regular age 50 catch-up contribution limit for such plans in 2024 subject to a cost-of-living adjustment that will begin in 2026. The new catch-up contribution limit for 401(k), 403(b), and governmental 457(b) plans must be made on a Roth basis if the employee's wages for FICA tax purposes for the prior year are above $145,000 (indexed). Elective contributions generally may not exceed 100 percent of your compensation and there is an overall limit on aggregate contributions (including employer and employee contributions) that can be made to your employer's plan. If you have questions about these limits, please contact your employer.

A special catch-up contribution may also be available to you in the three years immediately preceding normal retirement age under the plan. This catch-up contribution and the age 50 or over catch-up contribution may not both be used for the same year. Elective contributions generally may not exceed 100 percent of your compensation. If you have questions about these limits, please contact your employer.

Am I able to roll over an existing retirement account to my new plan?

If you have an existing retirement plan account with a prior employer or a traditional IRA, you may be able to roll over all or some of that account into this plan once you enroll. Or, if you have a retirement plan account with your current employer that you are no longer contributing to and your plan permits, you may consolidate those assets into this new plan as well. Rollover of Roth contributions are not permitted.

How do I know which funds my plan offers?

You may choose from a range of funding options. For a list of the funding options available to you, please see your plan's "Investment Options at a Glance" flyer.

Does my plan allow loans?

Loans are not permitted.

When may money be withdrawn from my account?

Since your plan is designed primarily to help you save for retirement, the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) has placed restrictions on when money may be withdrawn from your plan account before you retire. Money may be withdrawn from your plan account under the following circumstances, in accordance with your employer's plan document:

- Termination of Employment
- Disability (Subject to IRC requirements)
- Death
- Unforeseeable Emergency (Subject to IRC requirements)

Always consult your tax advisor about the income tax consequences of any withdrawals. Ordinary federal income taxes generally apply. State income taxes may also apply.
