

Term Life Insurance

can provide money for your family if you die or are diagnosed with a terminal illness.

Class 13 - Employees who elected coverage and were previously covered under Eligible Group 1 as of June 30, 2015 and who are working 20 hours but less than 30 hours per week

How does it work?

You keep coverage for a set period of time, or "term." If you die during that term, the money can help your family pay for basic living expenses, final arrangements, tuition and more.

Why choose Unum?

Your employer is contributing to the cost of this coverage. Unum is the leading provider of employee benefits, with more than 165 years of experience.¹ We'll be there to back our benefits and provide you with the support you need.

Who can get Term Life coverage?

If you are actively at work at least 20 hours per week, you may apply for coverage for:

You:	You can receive a benefit amount of $50,000.
Your spouse:	If eligible, (see delayed effective date), your spouse can receive the following coverage: Get $2,000 of coverage for your spouse.
Your children:	If eligible, (see delayed effective date), your children can receive the following coverage: The maximum benefit for children from live birth and older is $2,000.

One policy covers all of your children until their 26th birthday - or until their 0th birthday if they are full time students

Delayed Effective Date: if your spouse or child has a serious injury, sickness, or disorder, or is confined, their coverage may not take effect. Payment of premium does not guarantee coverage. Please refer to your policy contract or see your plan administrator for an explanation of the delayed effective date provision that applies to your plan.

What else is included?

A "Living" Benefit

If you are diagnosed with a terminal illness with less than 12 months to live, you can request 50% of your life insurance benefit (up to $50,000) while you are still living. This amount will be taken out of the death benefit and may be taxable.

Waiver of premium

Your cost may be waived if you are totally disabled for a period of time.

Portability

You may be able to keep coverage if you leave the company, retire or change the number of hours you work.

Employees or dependents who have a sickness or injury having a material effect on life expectancy at the time their group coverage ends are not eligible for portability.

Work-life balance Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

Get access to professional help for a range of personal and work-related issues, including counselor referrals, financial planning and legal support.

Exclusions and limitations

Actively at work

Eligible employees must be actively at work to apply for coverage. Being actively at work means on the day the employee applies for coverage, the individual must be working at one of his/her company's business locations; or the individual must be working at a location where he/she is required to represent the company. If applying for coverage on a day that is not a scheduled workday, the employee will be considered actively at work as of his/her last scheduled workday. Employees are not considered actively at work if they are on a leave of absence or lay off.

An unmarried handicapped dependent child who becomes handicapped prior to the child's attainment age of 26 may be eligible for benefits. Please see your plan administrator for details on eligibility.

Employees must be U.S. citizens or legally authorized to work in the U.S. to receive coverage.

Employees must be actively employed in the United States with the Employer to receive coverage. Employees must be insured under the plan for spouses and dependents to be eligible for coverage.

Exclusions and limitations

Life insurance benefits will not be paid for deaths that are caused by suicide occurring within 24 months after the effective date of coverage or the date that increases to existing coverage becomes effective. This exclusion standardly applies to all medically written amounts and contributory amounts that are funded by the employee including shared funding plans.

Delayed effective date of coverage

Employee: Insurance coverage will be delayed if you are not in active employment because of an injury, sickness, temporary layoff, or leave of absence on the date that insurance would otherwise become effective.

Delayed Effective Date: if your spouse or child has a serious injury, sickness, or disorder, or is confined, their coverage may not take effect. Payment of premium does not guarantee coverage. Please refer to your policy contract or see your plan administrator for an explanation of the delayed effective date provision that applies to your plan.

Age reduction

Coverage amounts for Life for you and your dependents will reduce to 75% of the original amount when you reach age 70. Coverage may not be increased after a reduction.

Termination of coverage

Your coverage and your dependents' coverage under the policy ends on the earliest of:

- The date the policy or plan is cancelled
- The date you no longer are in an eligible group
- The date your eligible group is no longer covered
- The last day of the period for which you made any required contributions
- The last day you are actively employed (unless coverage is continued due to a covered layoff, leave of absence, injury or sickness), as described in the certificate of coverage

In addition, coverage for any one dependent will end on the earliest of:

- The date your coverage under a plan ends
- The date your dependent ceases to be an eligible dependent
- For a spouse, the date of a divorce or annulment
- For dependents, the date of your death

Unum will provide coverage for a payable claim that occurs while you and your dependents are covered under the policy or plan.
